Andalucía

Here you have a story to tell...

Andalucía

Andalusia is the southernmost region of continental Europe. Our region offers a variety of locations including high mountain landscapes, forests, tropical sites, deserts, beaches and cliffs, whitewashed villages, historical sites and modern cities, castles, Baroque mansions and fabulous Moorish palaces.

The great Andalusia's cinematic tradition has made possible the production of many works. The eight Andalusian provinces have worked as ideal backgrounds for the development of many stories the cinematic imaginary preserves today.

Andalucía, the perfect place for your next project: Highly qualified professionals and companies, large diversity of locations, 30% tax rebate, free assistance, safe destination, funding, talented and awarded professionals recognized nationally and internationally.

Get to know Andalusia discovering the filming locations for classics such as 'Lawrence of Arabia' or 'Indiana Jones and the Last Crusade'; super productions like 'Exodus: Gods and Kings.' or 'Star Wars. Episode II'; great national successes like 'The Endless Trench' or 'Marshland'; or series of worldwide renown as 'Game of Thrones' and 'The Crown'.

So many reasons to come to Andalucía. Here you have a story to tell...

Andalucía Film Commission

Andalucía Film Commission is a nonprofit institution that aims to promote Andalusia as a place of shooting giving free assistance and supporting companies and professionals of the audiovisual industry in the logistics of their productions.

Since its inception in 1998, Andalucía Film Commission reports on possible locations in Andalusia and coordinates the audiovisual industry and production companies with the government, performing a work directed to attracting tourism and therefore creating a beneficial economic impact in the Andalusian region.

It also has signed agreements with public and private institutions from different provinces of Andalusia to create the Film Cities Network, providing the best coverage of audiovisual production needs throughout Andalusia.

Tax Incentives

National productions and Coproductions

- Spanish investments in film and audiovisual production are often carried out via an EIG (Economic Interest Grouping) which is set up as the film's producer. These investments give the producer the right to a tax credit of 30% of the first million Euros, and 25% if the investment is higher, with a maximum of 10 million Euros per production.
- The base for the deduction is equal to the total production cost plus the cost of copies, advertising and promotion financed by the producer (with a limit of 40% of the production cost).
- The law establishes a territorial requirement and 50% of the deduction base must correspond to the expenses incurred in Spain.
- It also specifies that the total tax incentive amount received must not exceed 50% of the production cost.
- In the case of a co-production, the amounts will be determined for each co-producer, according to their respective share-percentage of the co-production.
- Once the film's nationality certificate has been obtained and the rest of the requirements have been fulfilled, the tax rebate can be applied for during the month of July in the year after the production end-date.

Spanish productions and international co-productions can gain access to tax credit on Corporation Tax once they have obtained their Spanish nationality and cultural certificates issued by the ICAA, and once a copy of the production has been deposited at the Spanish Film Archive or in a film library officially recognised in an Autonomous Community.

Film Cities Network

To provide the best audiovisual production's coverage, Andalucía Film Commission has signed agreements with both public and private Andalusian institutions. The result of it is the creation of the Film Cities Network, a regional network which covers the territory with physical and virtual offices.

The Film Cities Network offices, coordinated by Andalucía Film Commission, provide personalized assistance by facilitating permits to film in their territories and offering their locations to the audiovisual industry.

Locations

Unique places throughout Andalucía

Andalucía is a journey through thousands kilometres of roads, high-speed train connections, international ports and airports; it is a movie of contrasts that is about deserts, snow covered mountains, forests and one thousand kilometers of coasts bathed by the sun; it is a tale about Tartessos, Romans and Muslims, medieval castles and Baroque churches. It is a story about the past and the future.

The Alcazar of Seville, the desert of Tabernas in Almeria, or the beaches of Cadiz have hosted the most varied film and television productions since many years ago. From Pedro Almodóvar to Ridley Scott, Sergio Leone or Antonio Banderas, the most prestigious filmmakers from all over the world have once chosen the impressive, assorted and unusual Andalusian landscapes to shoot their films.

Likewise, national directors such as Alberto Rodríguez, Imanol Uribe and Manuel Martín Cuenca have found the ideal setting for their most emblematic titles on the beaches, the mountains and the monumental ensembles of the towns and cities of Andalusia. This catalogue will show you the most outstanding productions shot in Andalusia, which have made this region one of the most important filming destinations in the world.
